

Scottish Borders Council is reviewing its Social Work Non-Residential Charging Policy.

It is holding a consultation to get views on the proposed changes.

The review is needed to make sure that the council can meet the rising demand for services, in a way that ensures anyone with an assessed need can continue to receive a service.

As part of the consultation, Borders Care Voice will be hosting online meetings to gather feedback on the proposed changes. They will be held on Microsoft Teams.

Please let us know if you need help to join a Microsoft Teams meeting.
